

Fifth Grade

Salvador Dali: “Persistence of Memory”

Project: Making Dali People

Materials:

Large Construction Paper
Magazines – we have some in the closet
Scissors
Glue Sticks

Process:

1. Each student gets a magazine and must have scissors
2. Show the example of what they are to create – A Dali Person (in file)
3. Give the students 1 minute to find a head
They look through the magazine very quickly and find a page of what will be their head. It can be a car, bar of soap, etc. The only rule is it cannot be a picture of the body part they are searching for. They do not cut the object; they just tear the page and put it in a pile.
4. Give the student 1 minute to find a body – same process as #3
5. Give the student 1 minute to find legs – same process as #3
6. Give the student 1 minute to find arms – same process as #3
7. Give the student 1 minute to find feet – same process as #3
8. Give the student 1 minute to find hand – same process as #3
9. Now give the students time to cut, glue and assemble their Dali Person

*Note – this is a blast for the kids!
