

Second Grade

James Peale: "Washington at Yorktown"

Project: Portraits

Materials:

Drawing paper

Pencils

Colored pencils

Process: See attached. It's helpful to draw along with the students, use the whiteboard in the classroom and work right along side the group.

Note: It's difficult for students to do a self-portrait or a portrait of a friend. Sometimes it's best just to have them draw someone they'd like to meet. That way they can not compare their drawing to the real thing.