

Pablo Picasso

Pablo Picasso was born in 1881 in Malaga, Spain. Following his father's teachings, Picasso held his first exhibition at the age of 16. At age of 20, Picasso moved to France where he spent the rest of his life. Picasso interest in African primitive carvings led to the creation and introduction of "Cubism" to the art world. Cubism is a form of art where common objects are distorted and shaded. He has created more than 20,000 pieces of art during his lifetime. However, he also was skilled in sculpture, ceramics, engravings and theatre design. Picasso died in 1973 at the age of 91.
